Best Food Writing 2016

Synopsis

Like your favorite local grocery store, with its sushi bar, fresh baked goods, and maybe a very obliging butcher, Best Food Writing offers a bounty of everything in one place. For seventeen years, Holly Hughes has delved into piles of magazines and newspapers, scanned endless websites and blogs, and foraged through bookstores to provide a robust mix of what's up in the world of food writing. From the year's hottest trends (this year: meal kits and extreme dining) to the realities of everyday meals and home cooks (with kids, without; special occasions and every day) to highlighting those chefs whose magic is best spun in their own kitchens, these essays once again skillfully, deliciously evoke what's on our minds—and our plates. Pull up a chair. Contributors include: Betsy Andrews, Jessica Battilana, John Birdsall, Matt Buchanan, Jennifer Cockrill-King, Tove Danovich, Laura Donohue, Daniel Duane, Victoria Pesce, Elliott Edward Frame, Phyllis Grant, Andrew Sean Greer, Kathy Gunst, L. Holly Hughes, former executive editor of Fodor's travel publications, is the author of Frommer's 500 Places for Food and Wine Lovers. She lives with her family in New York City.

A particularly fantastic collection! Thank you Holly Hughes for including my piece on mom. Always been an inspiration and a goal!

I read other years and other compilations but this one i enjoyed the most. It had such great variety, sad, poignant, nostalgic, humorous and lots of surprises. Great book. A big thank you.

I loves this series. Every Year Holly Hughes puts together a group of essays reflecting today's foodie world. From essays on meal kits farm to table and the other wonderful essays as usual a 5 star read for me.

If you like reading about food in all it's forms, you should like this book. It includes articles from various publications and is a great overview from the food industry

Love this series!

A lovely book full of food stories.

Won me over

A perfect book to relax with
